Longmont, CO - Two Longmont companies recently announced a strategic partnership that will enable them to leverage their expertise in electronic data conversion services. Digital Data Services, Inc. (DDS) and WesTech eSolutions now provide complete, turnkey document management solutions and conversion services.

WesTech eSolutions provides products, solutions and a wide variety of services relating to the capture and lifecycle management of electronic records and paper documents. Solutions include a wide array of features including document imaging, document management, records management, and workflow solutions. DDS specializes in scanning and digitizing of large format documents, including engineering drawings and maps, into CAD and Geographic Information Systems.

DDS will utilize WesTech eSolutions retrieval solutions to offer a full range of document management services to engineering and mapping related industries. WesTech eSolutions will utilize DDS's experience in large format scanning solutions, file to file conversions and map-based document retrieval systems.

"Reaching out and establishing smart partnerships and strategic alliances that offer our clients a wider range of service, and creates win/win dynamics for our respective business is a rare and spectacular opportunity. I'm very excited to partner with WesTech eSolutions", said Scott C. Carter, President of DDS.

Bill West, Vice President and principal of WesTech eSolutions added, "Combining our sales and marketing efforts just makes sense. We both run across the need for what we each independently do, and establishing an open working relationship offers a full scale, broader range of services that we can deliver to our clients."
